

Position of Assistant/Associate Professor of Operations Management
OM&IS Department, College of Business
Northern Illinois University

The OM&IS Department at the College of Business, Northern Illinois University is seeking to fill a tenure-track assistant or associate professor position in the field of Operations Management.

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant or Associate Professor

Starting Date: August 16, 2018

Description: We are seeking candidates able to provide high quality teaching, research, and service in the area of Operations Management within the Operations Management and Information Systems (OM&IS) Department at the College of Business, Northern Illinois University. Candidates must be comfortable teaching supply chain management, logistics, and inventory/warehouse management topics at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Qualifications: A PhD, DBA, or ABD in Operations Management or a closely related field from an AACSB accredited school is required. Teaching, research, and industry experience in Operations Management are preferred.

Salary: Competitive

Application Procedure: Apply online at <https://employment.niu.edu/postings/29500>. Please send letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching and research interests, evidence (if available) of teaching performance, and three letters of recommendation to the address above:

Application Deadline: Interviews will be scheduled at the DSI conference. Please send a letter of application and full vita by Friday, November 3, 2017, if you'd like to be interviewed at the 2017 DSI Conference in Washington, D.C., November 18-20, 2017. Search will continue until the positions are filled.

Northern Illinois University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity Institution encouraging diversity. Pre-employment background check required.