

TERRY A. JIMENEZ

Terry A. Jimenez is the Vice President of Finance and Chief Financial Officer of Newsday and Publisher of amNew York.

Terry currently oversees the Financial Planning, Financial Reporting, Circulation Field Verification and Reporting, Billing, Collections, and Disbursement functions. He additionally has oversight responsibility for Strategy & Development, Research and Project Management.

As Publisher of amNY, Terry oversees the areas of Advertising, Circulation, Production, Editorial, and Administration.

Terry served as Controller of the Chicago Tribune until February 2005 when he joined Newsday. Prior to joining the Chicago Tribune, Terry served as the Finance Director of the McDonald's Corporation responsible for strategic business planning, negotiation, and the integration of joint ventures. Before that, Terry held various financial management positions with the McDonald's Corporation since 1994.

Terry holds a bachelors degree in accounting from Northern Illinois University and a masters degree from the J.L. Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University in Chicago. He is a certified public accountant. He is a member of the International Newspaper Financial Executives Association, a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and a member of the Northern Illinois University's Accountancy Executive Advisory Council. He is a board member of the Family and Children's Association (also serves as Audit Committee Chair) and Ronald McDonald House Long Island (also serves as Audit Committee Chair).