Visiting Professor in Operations Management
OM&IS Department, College of Business
Northern Illinois University

The OM&IS Department at the College of Business, Northern Illinois University invites qualified candidates for a Visiting Professor appointment in Spring 2020 effective January 13th, 2020. The primary responsibility would be to teach the required, Productions, Operations, and Supply Chain Management courses in the Undergraduate or Graduate Business program. For Visiting Professor, one should have a PhD (or ABD) in Operations, Supply Chain Management or a related field. The candidate must be able to effectively teach operations management, supply chain management courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels and work with colleagues to support and enhance our innovative and engage program culture.

Job Title: Visiting Professor

Anticipating Start Date: January 13, 2020

Description: As a Visiting Professor, your assignment will include teaching, at both undergraduate and graduate levels, as applicable; course and/or curriculum development; involvement on College initiatives; as well as duties as assigned. Northern Illinois University is a comprehensive university dedicated to quality education, research, and service. All faculty are expected to be excellent teachers, responsive to changing professional needs; committed to innovative delivery of instruction resulting in improved student learning; and provide service to the College, University and Community. Teaching assignments may be on the main campus or at off-campus sites within Chicago region.

Qualifications: Preferred candidates will have a Ph.D. in Operations, Supply Chain Management or a closely related discipline from an AACSB accredited institution at the time of appointment. ABDs will also be considered.

Preferred Qualifications: Experience in teaching courses in Operations, Supply Chain Management or closely related disciplines. Extensive industry experience in supply chain management at the senior level at major corporations.

Salary: Negotiable based on education and experience.

Job Duties: Teach three courses each semester in the OM&IS program, and engages in service activities as required.
Applications must be submitted via email to the Department Chair Prof. Chang Liu at cliu@niu.edu and should contain a letter of application clearly indicating your qualifications and interests, curriculum vita, student evaluation of teaching effectiveness (if available), and the names and contact information of at least three references.

The successful candidate must provide official transcripts of all academic work completed and, under U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services regulations, be able to accept work in the U.S. by the day employment begins. The University regrets that we are unable to offer H1-B sponsorship at this time.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Ranked in Business Week’s Top 100 Undergraduate Programs and by Crain’s Chicago Business as having one of Chicago’s Best MBA Programs, Northern Illinois University is one of the largest public universities in the state of Illinois. While the comprehensive university serves 20,000 students, NIU’s AACSB-accredited College of Business is deeply committed to providing a productive research environment for its faculty and a high quality student experience for its 2,500 undergraduates and 1,000 graduate students. NIU’s geographical reach extends beyond its main DeKalb campus (65 miles west of downtown Chicago, 60 miles from the O’Hare International Airport, and 40 miles west of Naperville – a community with a school system ranking in Newsweek’s 2015 list of America’s Top High Schools) to smaller campuses in Naperville, Hoffman Estates, and Chicago as well as to students online.

In compliance with the Illinois Campus Security Act, before an offer of employment is made, the university will conduct a pre-employment background investigation, which includes a criminal background check. In accordance with applicable statutes and regulations, NIU is an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, religion, age, physical and mental disability, marital status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, political affiliation, or any other factor unrelated to professional qualifications, and will comply with all applicable federal and state statutes, regulations and orders pertaining to nondiscrimination, equal opportunity and affirmative action. NIU recognizes Dual Career issues. In compliance with federal law, all persons hired will be required to verify identity and eligibility to work in the United States and to complete the required employment eligibility verification document form upon hire.